ABOUT THE INTERNSHIP

Our competitive remote internships are designed to provide aspiring editors, publishers, and writers with the vital experience and connections needed to succeed in the literary industry.

FROM THE SLUSH PILE TO THE PRINTED PAGE, BRINK'S INTERNS PLAY A VITAL ROLE IN BRINGING GREAT LITERATURE TO THE WORLD.

INTERNS WILL:

- Edit fiction, nonfiction, and poetry submissions from emerging and established authors
- Assist with publishing F*(r)iction
- Post on social media to market Brink and literary works
- Learn crucial InDesign production skills and editorial writing
- Interview authors and review new books
- Select and edit writing contest submissions
- Discover the ins and outs of a publishing nonprofit

ABOUT BRINK

Brink is a nonprofit initiative that works worldwide to foster a love of literature, increase literacy rates, and use storytelling to empower underserved communities.

ABOUT F(R)ICTION

F(r)iction is a nationally-distributed collection of literature and art. Published triannually and printed in full, gorgeous color, F(r)iction highlights the very best in boundary-pushing literature and art.

APPLY TODAY AT BRINKLIT.ORG

Brink

PUBLISHING INTERNSHIP

GAIN IMMERSIVE INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE IN PUBLISHING AND EDITING

THE BRINK INTERNSHIP:

Brink's 15-week Internship seeks to bring underrepresented and diverse voices into the publishing industry. Interns learn the essential ins and outs of the industry and become crucial contributors to the positive social change Brink affects every day.

The program is conducted entirely online so applicants from anywhere in the world can participate as long as they have access to WiFi. Interns typically work 10 hours a week. Every Brink intern receives a small stipend of $300.

"I can't praise Brink enough for this incredible, inclusive, and inspiring internship experience. I felt valued and respected by every member of the staff, and each person I met showed me how deeply everyone believes in Brink's mission to spread literacy, transform lives through storytelling, and to create a world that values unconventional and challenging writing." – ARI

APPLICATION PROCESS:

1. Submit application
2. Request recommendations
3. Interview (if selected)

QUESTIONS?

Email us: intern@brinklit.org

APPLICATION DEADLINES:

SPRING INTERNSHIP

- Applications Open: Aug 1st
- Application Deadline: Dec 1st
- Referrer Deadline: Dec 15th
- Cycle Runs: Jan/Feb – Apr/May

FALL INTERNSHIP

- Applications Open: Mar 1st
- Application Deadline: July 1st
- Referrer Deadline: July 15th
- Cycle Runs: Aug/Sept – Nov/Dec

*Applicants are responsible for letting their referrers know when and how to send in their letters of recommendation. Full details about our procedure are provided in the internship application.

APPLY TODAY TO START...

MAKING CONNECTIONS,
EARNING COLLEGE CREDITS,
BUILDING YOUR RESUME,
EDITING PROFESSIONALLY,
& ENHANCING YOUR SKILLS.